100 VOLUMES OF THE STANDARD DICTIONARY!

This rare work of nearly 2400 pages, each volume weighing 17 1/2 pounds, beautifully bound in embossed leather, issued by Funk and Wagnalls of London and New York, is now on sale at the Deseret News office. One hundred volumes have just been received. This is the work in the compilation of which Dr. James E. Talmage was engaged as one of the 200 editors. Its thoroughness is well illustrated by its treatment of the single word "Quorum," as follows:

"Quorum" (1). Such a number of persons as any deliberative or corporate body is necessary for the legal transaction of business; unless otherwise ordered, a majority. (2) (3) Certain designated members of the Senate constituted as JUSTICES OF THE QUORUM, without the presence of some of whom the others could not act. (4) Mr. Ch. C. Smith, a member of the body of the Senate, was called upon to read the prayer, as an Elder's quorum; the quorum of the First Presidency. (5) Necessary constituents. (6) Of whom, per al. of "quorum" (who) from the Latin "quorum" (whom) = A. B. case volume (of whom we desire A. B. to be one) forming part of ancient commissions, as of Justices.

This rare dictionary is offered at $12 per copy. A limited number can be had for Church, parson, and our schools and colleges are asked to correspond with us at once should they desire a copy.

THE DESERET NEWS.

ALLEGED FORGER CAUGHT.

Roy Schroder Now Under Arrest in Anaconda, Montana.

Will be Brought Back Here to Answer to the Charge of Forgery.

Word was received here this morning that Roy Schroder, a young man who, it is said, forged a number of checks here, is now in Anaconda, Mont., under the surveillance of the sheriff of that place, and will undoubtedly be under arrest before morning. This morning S. E. Cragger, manager of the wire and iron works, received the following telegram from Anaconda:

"Have you an agent named R. Schroder in Montana? Is check drawn by him with S. E. Cragger's name good? Please answer."

"JACK CONLEY, Sheriff."

The telegram was turned over to Detective Sheets, who immediately telegraphed to Anaconda to arrest Schroder at once as he was wanted for forgery. At one time Schroder worked for Cragger, but subsequently he signed Cragger's name to a check for $21.25 on McCormick & Co's Bank, and passed the same on the Utah Liquor company. Cragger has evidently been passing worthless checks in Montana, but he is now at the end of his rope. An officer will probably have him here tomorrow and return with the alleged forger.

Citizen of East Jordan Writes to the "News" on an Important Subject.

Objectionable Railroad Crossing, on Which Many People Have Narrowly Escaped Death.

Mr. O. P. Miller, writing to the "News" from East Jordan, under date of May 2nd, says:

I take the liberty of addressing you on a matter some of the readers of your paper are interested in. The past three months I have had to stand in the threshold of my home, and witness many and many a hairbreadth escape of people's lives by being run over by the trains. I have recently been an eye witness to two buggies being upset, and the occupants narrowly escaping death. One of these was on the first day of May, at 8:30 a. m. An old pioneer and respected citizen, Hon. William Tanner, 65 years old, of South Cottonwood, and his daughter, Mrs. Wigner, narrowly escaping instant death, having just crossed the railroad track of the G. S. L. at a point where Tanner was a stationer. The State road bridge of Sandy, Utah, became frightened at the train whistling and went over a steep bank ten or twelve feet high, the buggy over the top of them. Had it not been for the timely arrival of Mr. Frank Atwood and several other parties, Mr. Tanner would have been killed, and his injuries may yet prove fatal. He received a severe cut above his right eye, and his right leg is badly bruised.

The road company should be allowed to raise the track ten or twelve feet above the level and then leave a narrow grade for the public to travel over on a street as wide as State street is a question that will never be answered. If they cannot be reached by the county commission, they should see to it that the nuisance is abated. It is negligence on the part of the railroad company, when one day with their gravel train would run over the lives of scores of wagons and buggies have been upset at this place.

The county officials may not be posted as to what the railroad company are eye witnesses to many of these accidents, and when they do occur they speed on and leave people mangled in their own life blood, caring less for them than human people do for an animal.

Mr. Tanner's is the third case since January that has come to my notice. It appears to me it is high time the public and the press come out in a strong protest against such carelessness. At this point the railroad company has not only raised their track on feet above the level but have dug below the surface four feet, thus making a very dangerous crossing, and this condition has existed for many years at the risk of life and property.

A Spinal Ache Quickly Cured.
"At one time I suffered from a severe spinal ache," says Geo. E. Cary, editor of the Guide, Washington, Va. "After using several well recommended medicines without success, I tried Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and am pleased to say that relief came as soon as I began its use and a complete cure speedily followed. This remedy has also been used by my family for frost bitten feet, with the best results. I cheerfully recommend its use to all who may need a first class liniment."

The N. N. Shampoo Gift day will take place soon—watch the paper for the announcement.

OLD UTAH MAN DIES AT SPOKANE

Was Assistant U. S. Attorney Here During Arthur's Administration.

SCUMBED TO PARALYSIS.

Brief Sketch of the Deceased—Was at One Time Lieutenant Governor of the State of Idaho.

Information has been received in this city stating that Hon. Vie Bierbower, a former resident of Utah, had died of paralysis at Spokane, Washington. Mr. Bierbower will be remembered by many citizens of this state as having served as assistant United States attorney for Utah during the administration of President Arthur. Concerning his death the Boise Statesman of yesterday says: "The deceased belonged to the Masons and the fraternity at Spokane had been looking after him since he was taken ill, and after his death the lodge here was communicated with to learn what disposition should be made of the remains. Exalted Ruler Ramsey of the lodge wired the widow of a brother, who he died in 1900, and is awaiting instructions from her."

Mr. Bierbower had a stroke of paralysis about two years ago that crippled him for several months. He appeared to have entirely recovered, however, but recently he became an invalid, and when he was last here his friends said that he was twice elected to the lodge here, but he never appeared.

He left Boise a few weeks ago, after an extended visit, and went to Lewiston on his way to Grangeville, his home. It was for the purpose of stopping to take part in the Big Buffalo case, in which he was one of the attorneys, that the second stroke of paralysis struck him on his way to Lewiston. He died on Sunday, April 22. The stricken man was taken to the hospital in Spokane and everything possible was done for him, but there was not any hope for his recovery.

Vie Bierbower was born in Pennsylvania about 25 years ago. He graduated from Dickinson college and prepared himself for the practice of the law. In the last years of the war, however, he entered the service of his country in the Pennsylvania infantry regiment and saw active service.

Later in life he moved to Nebraska and made his home at Sidney, where he served two terms as district attorney and was twice elected to the legislature. In 1881 he came to Idaho, settling on Wood river. He was assistant district attorney under Hon. George H. Roberts during the first term of the legislature. In 1882 Mr. Bierbower was nominated for the legislature from Logan county, but was defeated by a narrow margin. Two years later he was the nominee of the republicans for State senator and was elected by a plurality of 3 over G. B. Hill, populist. He was chosen senator in 1886, and served two terms. In 1890 he was elected lieutenant governor of the state, and served two terms. In 1892 he was elected governor of the state, and served two terms. In 1894 he was elected lieutenant governor of the state, and served two terms. In 1896 he was elected governor of the state, and served two terms. In 1898 he was elected lieutenant governor of the state, and served two terms. In 1900 he was elected governor of the state, and served two terms.

He was a staunch republican in politics and was always at the front in the party's battles. Mr. Bierbower had a great multitude of friends, and his death has been widely mourned. He was a big hearted man and was generous to a fault, and whenever he was known there is sincere regret at his death. He was a good lawyer and was well informed on all general subjects and his equipment was such that he was a great asset to the reputation of any community in which he lived.

Mr. Bierbower was unmarried. Very little is known of his family beyond the fact that he had a brother, Hon. Ellis Bierbower, in Omaha. The latter, United States marshal at one time, was a son-in-law of ex-Governor James H. Boyd. His widow, who is now in Idaho, has been widowed for many years, and his death has been a great loss to her.

RAILROAD STRIKE IS DECLARED OFF

New York Central and Other Lines Grant Increase of Wages.

AN INCREASE IN EXPENSES

Amounting to Hundreds of Thousands of Dollars is the Result—Apparently Men Were Strong.

The railroad strike in New York is considered practically settled. It is understood the Nickel Plate has agreed to abide by the action of the New York Central and it is believed the Erie, Lackawanna, Lehigh and Western New York and Western Pennsylvania will acquiesce in the arrangement.

The concession made by the New York Central will, it is said, mean $100,000 a year added to the expenses of the road at this end of the State as compared with what they were prior to March 15.

A conference between Commissioner Webster and the executive committee of the car repairers association and officials of railroads other than the New York Central on which the car repairers struck has been arranged to take place this afternoon. It is stated at noon that the Central's men would return to work tomorrow morning.

The New Arrangements.
Three of the powerful new ten-wheel passenger locomotives of the Colorado & Southern will be in Denver by May 15, and it is understood that on that date the Colorado & Southern will cease the Colorado & Southern operating Midland trains into Denver. The new locomotives are built for speed, and are more powerful than the first three leave Providence, R. I., early next week. As soon as they are put in commission they will haul the through trains from the coast in view of the joint ownership of the Midland by the Colorado & Southern and the Colorado & Southern. The Colorado & Southern will operate the Midland trains to Denver by both the Santa Fe and the Colorado & Southern. Although the transfer of the Midland does not take place until July 1, the road has already practically changed hands and matters of importance will occur between May 15 and June 1, when the Colorado & Southern begins operating the Midland trains by the Colorado & Southern's own equipment.
